The small fish are to be shipped here from the national fish hatchery in the east. Both fish increase rapidly, the cat fish grow as large as the lake carp, while the small mouth bass grow about as large as the bass now in the lake.

A letter received from Mrs. Alice T. Steele, written from the Yellowstone National Park, informs us she is having the best time of her life, as she further says, "In viewing the truly most wonderful sights of nature, The Geysers and Hot Pools on all sides. I have been out with the guide and company all morning and seen old Faithful and Giant, Paisy and Riverside and many other Geysers playing from 95 feet to 200 feet in the air, pen can never describe the wonderful sights."

The families and many other relatives and friends, have been anxiously awaiting the home coming of our three young missionaries, James W. Grant, Wm. Gardner and Junius Smith. Elders Grant and Gardner from Holland and England, have been expected daily, for a week, and they are no doubt taking advantage of their opportunity to see the sights in our own country as they journey home. Elder Smith, son of Ep. W. B. Smith, who has labored for the past two years, in the Eastern States mission, was released a few days ago. Very likely all three will reach home today.

Barnum & Bailey Circus Coming To Salt Lake.

The world's most skillful scenic artists, costumers, property builders, chorus directors and stage managers were engaged to mount the production.

A stage bigger than a hundred ordinary theatres was built and made portable so that it can be conveyed from town to town and erected each day in the main tent. The circus proprietors have thus made it possible for those who live in contributory towns. It is enacted with a cast of 1,250 actors, a grand opera chorus, an orchestra of 100 soloists, a ballet of 350 dancing girls, 650 horses, herds of elephants, caravans of camels, and a trainload of special devices, costumes, and scenery and electrical mechanism for producing such effects as lightning, thunder, and storms on the desert, volcanoes in action, sunrise, floods and mirages.

The realism of the scenery is perfect. It is as though the audience was looking into the streets of Alexandria in the day of Ptolemys. The streets throb with their strange cosmopolitan life.

The incidental music was arranged by Faltis Effendi, late bandmaster of the Khedive of Egypt. The ballet is under the direction of Ottokar Bartik, ballet master of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company.

The regular circus program is the finest the Barnum and Bailey management has ever offered. Thrilling acts are presented by Katie Sandwina, the strongest and most beautiful woman before the public; Mae Wirth, the greatest of all riders; a company of Japanese wrestlers, athletes, swordsmen and jiu jitsu experts, Winston's riding seals, and Victoria Codona, queen of high wire performers. There are 400 performers. In the menagerie will be found the only baby giraffe on exhibition in the world. There will be a parade at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

The genuine kind of charity is that which opens the purse and keeps the mouth shut about it.

A prominent physician says that to be healthy you must smile. Surely it is a cheap remedy and would benefit us all.

Never lose faith in human nature. This is a good place to be in, right here on this old earth. Lots of nice folks here, too. The trouble is that many of us get a notion that we are the only good people left in the world. But we are not. When we get to thinking that way, it is a sure sign we need to take a trip out into the world and see what is going on there.
